Retex Partners with Accessible Business Consultants to Prepare Your Company for Today and Beyond

Westbury, N.Y. – October 14, 2010 – Retex, a retail technology and business solutions buying consortium, has partnered with Accessible Business Consultants, a full-service business consulting firm specializing in business, marketing and strategic plans, business management and coaching, business analysis, policies and procedures from start-up to expansion. With this new partnership, Retex members have a source to help them improve operations, productivity and profitability by utilizing the expertise of Accessible Business Consultants in key areas.

With over 30 years of experience, Accessible Business Consultants will provide retailers a new source to improve their business. Whether a retailer or restaurant is struggling with accounting issues, business plans, strategic marketing plans or simply need help directing the business with a business coach, Accessible Business Consultants will provide this service to Retex members.

Dave Turkin, Founder and CEO of Accessible Business Consultants said of the partnership, “With the economy suffering as much as it is, the retail community needs to become more aggressive in their marketing campaigns, improve their customer relations, control expenses and streamline operations to maintain the proper profit percentages. Strategic plans need to project out a year at a time but reviewed monthly to achieve the maximum efficiency. Our partnership with Retex enables us to reach the retail industry.”
