Retailers Can Now Realize Real Savings with Retex' New Partner for Conferencing and Collaboration Solutions
InterCall Conferencing Tools to Help Customers Be More Productive and Efficient

Valley Stream, N.Y. – May 20, 2009 – Retex, a retail technology and business solutions buying consortium, has partnered with InterCall, the world's largest conferencing and collaboration services provider, to offer InterCall's suite of conferencing solutions to Retex members who include national retailers. With this new partnership, Retex members will realize real savings on conferencing solutions as well as superior reliability and service.

"Retex's expertise within the retail market makes them a perfect partner choice for us and enables InterCall to reach more retail customers through this value-added partnership," said Brad Dupee, regional vice president of channel sales, InterCall. "Their team has earned a reputation of providing the retail industry with cost-efficient, quality solutions and InterCall is ready to deliver."

Working with InterCall, Retex now offers retailers of all sizes advanced audio, event, Web and video conferencing solutions, at affordable rates, to help them conduct business more efficiently. InterCall's conferencing solutions enable Retex members to meet and work across remote retail locations, bringing people together as powerful and effective teams. As with most Retex programs, retailers benefit from additional discounts and rebates exclusively available through this Retex program.

Charles Presti, President of Retex added, "Retailers are looking for solutions that not only affect their bottom line, but solutions that can be relied upon daily. InterCall's conferencing and collaboration solutions fit this need for our membership."
